

Internship case study with

Mileway

“

“As part of The Brokerage programme, I was thrilled to secure an internship with Mileway. My time here has been insightful and incredibly valuable because it has taught me the real-world application of the Asset Management position.

I have seen the different departments within Mileway such as Insurance and Marketing, which has shown me the many processes behind one transaction within the world of Real Estate.

I have seen first-hand how varied a day at Mileway can be, as there is an abundance of different tasks to do. However, the best thing about Mileway is its corporate culture. I felt like part of the Mileway team from the first day I started.”

Charles Hall -
The Brokerage candidate

THE BROKERAGE

Meet Charles:

Charles Hall is a finance student who has just completed his first year at Swansea University. His fascination with the world of finance stems from his love for communication and explaining economic problems. This interest led him to pursue a career in the professional city sector, where he aims to make a meaningful impact.

Overcoming challenges:

Like many young professionals, Charles encountered significant challenges on his journey to securing a role in the city sector. Notably, he struggled to advance through the initial stages of spring week applications. However, The Brokerage provided critical support, helping him improve his CV and secure an internship. This assistance was pivotal in helping Charles overcome the barriers he faced early in his career.

Professional development:

The Brokerage has played a key role in Charles's personal development, particularly in enhancing his interview skills. By honing these skills, Charles was able to better present himself during the interview process, making a stronger impression on potential employers. The ability to conduct detailed and concise research on companies, which he acquired through The Brokerage, was also crucial in helping him stand out during interviews.

The Brokerage is proud to partner with Mileway which continues to build an employer alliance and impacts early career journeys.

Internship case study

with

Mileway

Impactful Partnerships

“

As part of The Brokerage programme, I was thrilled to secure an internship with Mileway. My time here has been insightful and incredibly valuable because I've had the opportunity to witness firsthand how asset managers handle a variety of last mile logistic properties. Being able to see the tangible assets through site visits has been truly enlightening and has led me to explore the intricacies of asset management in a practical and engaging way.

The Brokerage and Mileway partnership provides mentorship and networking opportunities for young people like myself, allowing them to make valuable professional connections and gain insights from industry experts.”

Avneet Chopra - The Brokerage candidate

THE BROKERAGE

Meet Avneet:

Avneet Chopra, a second-year BSc Accountancy student at Queen Mary University of London, was drawn to the dynamic opportunities in London's financial sector. His passion for numbers and financial analysis, coupled with the vibrant financial environment of London, motivated him to pursue a career in this field. However, navigating the path to securing a professional role was challenging, especially as someone from an ethnic minority background.

Overcoming challenges:

One of the most significant obstacles Avneet faced was a lack of awareness about the various career paths available to him. The Brokerage played a crucial role in overcoming this challenge by offering insights into different industries and providing personalised guidance. Their support helped Avneet gain the confidence and knowledge necessary to pursue a successful career in the professional sector.

Professional development:

The Brokerage's programmes have significantly contributed to Avneet's personal and professional growth. He gained a deep understanding of various fields through industry-specific sessions, helping him identify the right career path. Additionally, workshops focused on communication, presentation skills, and personal development equipped Avneet with the tools to present himself confidently and professionally.

The Brokerage is proud to partner with Mileway which continues to build an employer alliance and impacts early career journeys.